

Transferring your eBook from your computer to an eReader

Once you have downloaded an eBook onto your computer using the Adobe Digital Editions software, you can transfer your book to your eReader for the loan period if you have signed up for an Adobe ID (click here for details about how to do that).

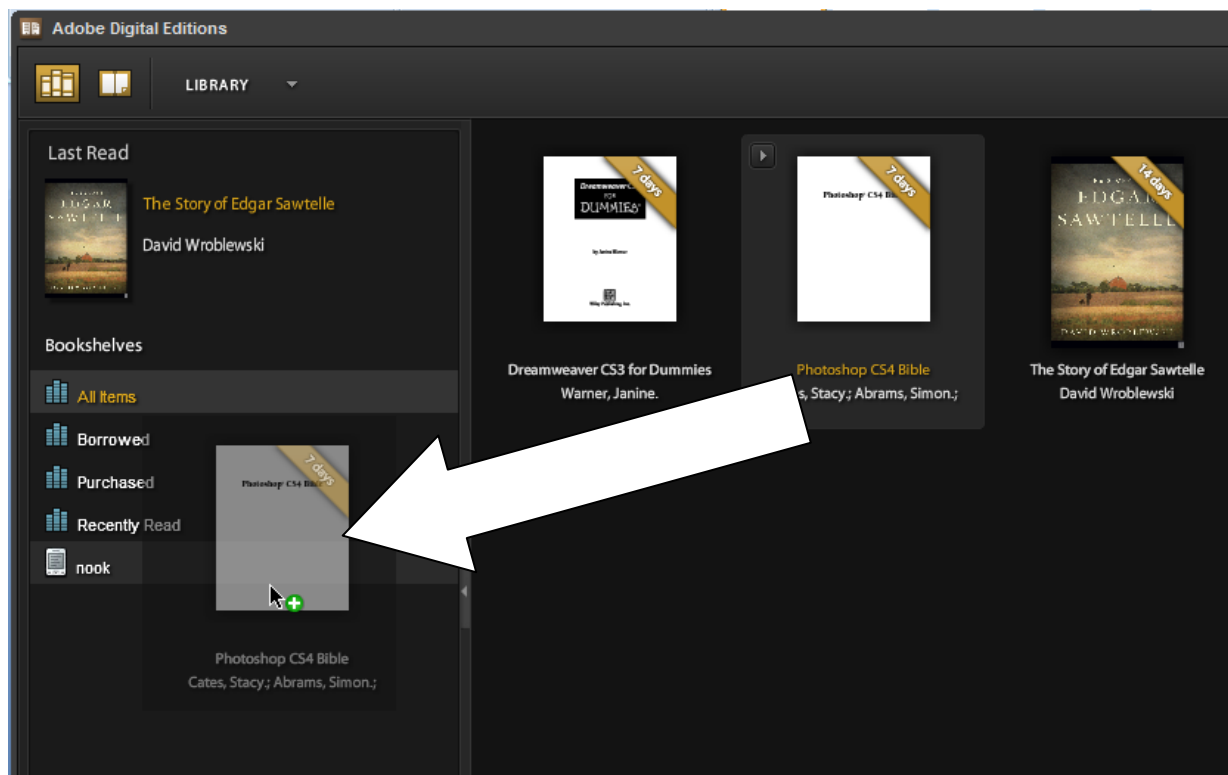

The easiest way to do this is:

- Close the Adobe Digital Editions Software
- Turn on your eReader device and let it power up
- Plug your eReader into your computer through a USB port with the cable provided by the manufacturer
- Open up the Adobe Digital Editions software

- Make sure you are looking at "Library View" (by clicking the icon of three books in the upper left corner of the screen). Your eReader should appear at the bottom of the list

Drag and drop the book from your library onto the icon for your eReader

Wait a few moments while your file downloads onto your eReader

A Note about the Nook Reader

eBooks will appear on Nook readers in the "My Documents" category NOT the "My B&N Library" section. To see your downloaded library books, go to the "View My Documents" section.

P: <reference/classes/downloadableebooks/transfertoereaderbl>